VALUES ALIGNMENT

50%

Different in energizing ways

This pairing becomes more interesting when you ask for the reason behind an answer. Curiosity will bring you closer than guessing what the other person feels.

Alexandra

Prepared Explorer

You research the unknown and turn curiosity into a confident step.

Jamie

Curious Organizer

You turn interesting ideas into plans everyone can join.

ALIGNMENT BY TOPIC

Your relationship playbook

Communication rhythm

Alexandra prefers "Reply to several messages when I have time," while Jamie prefers "Reply fairly soon after I notice a message." Agree on what a reassuring response looks like on busy days.

Support on difficult days

Alexandra recharges by "Talk a little with someone close to me," while Jamie prefers "Spend quiet time alone." Asking "Do you want company or space?" can prevent a caring gesture from missing the mark.

Plans and the future

Alexandra chose "Set specific goals and steps," while Jamie chose "Choose a broad direction." Decide what needs a plan and what can stay open.

How care comes through

Alexandra feels good when "Doing an activity together," while Jamie values "Talking a lot and sharing how we feel." Care may be present even when its delivery looks different.

YOUR NEXT 7 DAYS

1

Pick one question from The future and spend 15 minutes discussing the reasons behind each answer.

2

Create one small shared plan inspired by your strongest area, Time off.

3

Tell each other one recent action that made you feel noticed or cared for.

Use this as a conversation starter

A match percentage is not a grade. Similar answers can create ease, while different answers can create insight. What matters most is whether you can stay curious about the reason behind each choice.

THREE QUESTIONS TO KEEP TALKING

1. If you could design your ideal free day, what would it look like?
2. When do you feel most noticed or cared for?
3. What is one new thing you would like to try together?

This report is designed for entertainment and conversation. It is not a psychological or medical diagnosis and does not evaluate the quality of your relationship.
